

Call for Nominations

The University of Alabama

Crossroads Community Center

Honor Circle

On behalf of the University of Alabama, the Crossroads Community Center Honor Circle recognizes extraordinary individuals and organizations who have contributed to our campus community.

Nominations for the Honor Circle are open. When you nominate someone, keep in mind the criteria for the award. We wish to recognize students, administrators, staff, faculty, and organizations that:

- Go beyond what was required of them,
- Offer creative positive initiatives to build campus community,
- Contribute memorable positive energy to our campus, and
- Have the courage to pursue their vision.

Nominations may be submitted at any time during the year. Selection for induction into the Honor Circle will be made by the Awards Committee of the Crossroads Community Center. Submit your nomination to Crossroads Community Center, 232 Ferguson Center. Honors are presented at Open Mic, Open Heart which meets monthly during the semester.

By recognizing the important work of these individuals and organizations, we celebrate the spirit of the University of Alabama where tradition is a living inheritance and today's students create tomorrow's legacy.
